

Washington, D.C. – Congressman Vern Buchanan (FL-13) today unveiled his new congressional website (buchanan.house.gov) designed to make it easier for people to stay in touch and find out what Congress is doing.

“My new and improved website will provide you with quicker access to information on legislation, votes, and other issues Congress is working on, as well as videos and photos that I hope you will find interesting and useful,” Buchanan said.

Those visiting the site will notice links for Facebook, Twitter and YouTube as well as additional ways to stay connected. On the site, people can also sign up for Buchanan’s e-newsletters and answer his weekly insta-poll on timely issues before Congress.

“My highest priority is to listen to you and be your voice in Washington, so please check the site and stay in touch with me,” Buchanan said. “The more I hear from you, the better I can represent you in Washington.”

Buchanan urged people to take a look at the new site and get back to him with any feedback.

“I look forward to your feedback,” Buchanan said, adding, “As always, your thoughts and opinions help guide my work as your representative.”
